"Stand so that the sun is in your eyes," said the North Wind, towering over Amos, "because I do not want anyone else to see before I have." As the hunter watched, she began to change. Like a rippled reflection in a pool coming slowly into. I almost missed the next step turning to stare at her. "You're Selene?" It didn't surprise them too much. The Burroughs had given them: just about everything it could hold in the form of data and supplies. There was one more capsule load due; after that, its presence would only be a frustration to both groups. There was a great deal of irony in having two such powerful ships so close to each other and being so helpless to do anything concrete. It was telling on the crew of the Burroughs. "Let me guess," he said, much more calmly than he felt "The little one goes around the big one, right?" Did she expect him to recognize her? She was beautiful enough, certainly, to have been someone he ought to recognize, but if he had seen her on TV, he didn't remember. In a way she seemed almost too beautiful to be a noted personality, since there is usually something a little idiosyncratic about each of them, so they can be told apart. Columbine Brown was beautiful in the manner not of a celebrity but of a deluxe (but not customized) sports car. 82.
